THE CAMPAIGN HEATS UP

Raymond for 'gravel tax'

Valerie Raymond, challenging incumbent John Murphy for the first district county supervisorial seat, has proposed a plan "to insure that there will be funds to carry out the reclamation of the Livermore - Amador gravel pits."

"I believe that the gravel companies have a responsibility to leave quarried land in as useable state as when mining operations began. I also believe that the county has a responsibility to insure that the county taxpayers do not have to assume the financial burden of this reclamation," Raymond said.

Gravel company representatives last week unveiled a plan to provide for the reclamation of quarried lands 50 years hence. Experts said that 400 million tons of gravel remain for future extraction.

"This represents more than 120,000 truckloads of material leaving the valley each year. As supervisor I will work to see that a duty of 50 cents to $1 per truckload is levied by the county — fees to be placed in a trust fund which will accumulate over the next 50 years," Raymond said.

"This fund, accruing interest, should be sufficient to cover the reclamation cost which will be 4½ times its cost in today's dollars, assuming a conservative inflation rate of 3 per cent per annum."

Raymond continued: "The payment of money now for future reclamation is not a new idea. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania requires that coal companies put $500 to $2000 per acre into a trust fund for reclamation before strip mining can take place. We need this guarantee in the form of hard cash to make certain that the gravel industry will reclaim the valley's depleted gravel pits as they have promised. I would be reluctant to approve further permits until a fee schedule can be put into effect.

"Furthermore, I would require that the gravel companies 're - cycle' all prime soil removed in the mining process and use it to re-surface, or sell it to agriculturists here. At present, much of this priceless soil is being buried in the mining operation," Raymond said.

Murphy eyes 'tax relief'

Supervisor John D. Murphy, running for re-election to the first district, told a meeting of the Dublin Rotary Club that his prime goal for the present is to force a special session of the state legislature to consider property tax relief.

"Property taxes are an emergency for all of us, but more so for older people living on fixed incomes who are losing their homes because they cannot absorb the increased assessments," Murphy said.

"Los Angeles has joined the call for a special session and we are hoping others will join the bandwagon soon."

While Murphy cited property tax relief as his chief concern, he said the south county building program, the economy and jail reform are high on his priority list.

"We have the facilities for social services in the south county right now," Murphy said. "The trouble is that they are spread over a wide area in rented office and there is no adequate public transportation available."

Murphy said the county is paying rent totalling more than a third of a million dollars for the south county facilities which will be replaced by building programs in the valley and in Fremont.

"We'll pay for them as we go along," Murphy said. "This county has never had, nor will it have if I can help it, one cent of bonded indebtedness."

The supervisor tied a sound economy directly to law enforcement.

"We can't just shut everything down and hope for a sound economy. And when people don't have jobs and don't have money they sometimes go out and get funds any way they can and wind up in jail," he said.

Murphy cited figures that 68 per cent of the men and 84 per cent of the women committed to the county jail are unemployed. Also, he said, 59 per cent of the men and 90 per cent of the women incarcerated at Santa Rita have received some sort of welfare assistance.

"Those figures show clearly that a great deal of our law enforcement program is related to economics," Murphy said.

The judge and BART

Which signs are legal?

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Both Bob Allen and his challenger in the upcoming BART directors election were claiming victory in superior court yesterday after judge Robert Kroninger issued a restraining order limiting Allen's campaign to tear down political signs.

The order enjoins Allen from removing his opponents' legal campaign signs or those Allen might think violate two sections of the state's Outdoor Advertising Act.

The incumbent BART director started the flap two weeks ago when he wrote opponents John R. McCardle of Danville and John D. Ferguson of Hayward "inviting" them to join in his program to pull down illegally posted campaign signs and threatening to tear down their's if he thought they violated the act.

Allen, admitting the move would help his reelection campaign, said he only was interested in signs that violate state statute.

But McCardle, an attorney, and Ferguson, a U.S. postal director, took umbrage. McCardle also took Allen to court.

Allen hung his case on the state's Outdoor Advertising Act, which prohibits signs that can be seen from any state or interstate highway or county road, and requires state permits for other signs.

But judge Kroninger questioned those provisions of the act, some of which were ruled unconstitutional last month.

Under his order, Allen cannot tear down legal signs, and must notify his opponents within 24 hours of any allegedly "illegal" signs he has removed.

"The judge's order restrains me from doing essentially nothing," said Allen. "Nothing that I wasn't going to do in the first place."

Not so, said McCardle's attorney and law partner Lawrence Jarvis, who represented the challenger in court.

Allen, claims Jarvis, told his opponents he would tear down "any sign without the (state issued) stickers. He even sent us a bunch of stickers. But that (the order) stops that."

With the judge's injunction, Allen is subject to contempt of court if he tears down a "legally" placed political sign. Essentially, the burden of proof will be on Allen to show that any sign he had torn down was illegal.

"I was not going to tear down anything that is legal," said Allen, "or where there is obvious permission from the owner. Technically, the only things he restrained me from were the things I wasn't going to do."

Allen said he presented 25 photos of signs to the judge, five of which were on PG&E rights of way, a clear violation of the law, he claimed.

Jarvis replied: "He was claiming the illegality of practically all our signs because of something in the outdoor advertising act that says if the sign is visible from the roadway it's illegal."

"It's fundamentally a constitutional question of first amendment rights to freedom of speech," McCardle claimed. "Can the government say to you that you can't post a political sign in a certain area?"

Allen "is not a public spirited gentleman," he added. "He's not tearing down anybody's signs but ours." It's not our intention to post signs illegally. But it's not Mr. Allen's right to go and tear them down."

The judge, according to McCardle, "told Allen what he can't do and said the rest is done at his own risk."

Pipe line stirs questions

PLEASANTON — A group of skeptical Val Vista residents Wednesday night raised questions about the proposed cross - valley wastewater pipeline that neither assembled backers or opponents of the plan could answer.

Residents gathered at the Val Vista Park recreation center to hear Mayor Robert Philcox, Valley Community Services District Director Ron Hyde and Project Director Dan Murphy support the proposal. Zone 7 water board member Richard Ryon and Mission Park resident Chuck Seymour spoke in opposition to the pipeline.

Philcox explained that the pipeline is necessary to meet federal and state requirements that the valley stop dumping its sewage into Alameda Creek, where it flows downstream and pollutes Fremont's fresh water supplies.

"Pleasanton has two major problems — the sewer problem, and degradation of the ground waters," Philcox said.

The pipeline will provide residential sewage capacity of 15.62 million gallons per day (mgd), which would support a 1998 valley population of 148,000. This would mean a 2 per cent growth rate.

An additional 4.1 mgd would be set aside for future industrial users in Livermore and Pleasanton, Philcox explained. This would be paid for totally by the two cities, without the 87½ per cent government funding as on the residential capacity.

Ryon attacked the industrial capacity as too large, saying the valley would never develop its industrially - zoned lands to such an extent. "This is the wrong project at the wrong time," he said.

The Zone 7 director said that no legal guarantees existed that would prevent developers from using a part of that unused capacity to support a large residential development.

Val Vista residents are more familiar with sewage problems than most Valleyites, due to their close proximity with a sludge pond. Its closeness is marked by the constant smell, residents say.

Concerned that regulating reservoirs planned near their area could worsen the situation, residents challenged both sides on the pipeline debate.

(One month ago, Val Vista Homeowners Association President Don Savery requested project engineers to relocate a surge pond planned near the development. After brief study, it was determined that the pond could be moved ¼-mile farther away, at a cost savings of $100,000. The new site was adopted.)

One resident asked how safe the use of cholorine in treating wastewater was toward humans. Murphy said that 100 sewage treatment plants and 50 water treatment plants in the Bay Area all use chlorine in treatment, with no ill effects.

Philcox was asked if there were any guarantees that, once approved, resident's' monthly sewage service bills wouldn't skyrocket.

"We will experience increases in sewer service charges over the years, there's no getting away from it," Philcox said, but added that project costs had been determined accurately and no increases from the pipeline are necessarily expected.

If approved Nov. 2, resident's monthly sewer service bills would increase $2.74 in Dublin, $3.33 in Livermore, and $3.45 in Pleasanton.

But when one layman in the audience asked what happens to the sludge, the material left over after sewage treatment, nobody knew. After a few minutes of paper shuffling, the questioner was told that if he would leave his name and address, the answer would be mailed to him.

Murray School flap

Citizens' panel to list goals

Citizens Advisory Committee chairman Bob Scheppler will present that panel's report and recommendation on conversion of Dublin School to seventh-eighth grade use at Monday's Murray School District board meeting.

Wally Moreskine, district director of auxiliary services and liaison to the committee during its five-month existence, said Monday's meeting will be the first time the board will see the report.

Monday's meeting, which could also see comments from teacher representatives on the status of negotiations and an announcement from board president Ted Woy on Superintendent Donald Williams' contract with the district, is scheduled for Donlon School on Dorman Road in Pleasanton. Trustees convene at 8 p.m.

The CAC report will list the recommendation and include worksheets prepared several months ago by Moreskine on how many students (and from what schools) would attend Dublin (seventh and eighth grade) and where Dublin K-6 students would move to.

A second work sheet lists the same prospective details for Frederiksen. However, after considerable deliberation, the CAC decided against recommending Frederiksen for conversion to a seventh-eighth grade facility.

Also included is an alternative worked up by Doris Battin of the panel. The alternative would be to move six rooms of Dublin middle grades (4-6) to Nielsen, move 160 seventh-eighth graders from Nielsen to Dublin (emptying six rooms at Nielsen for the Dublin children), and moving enough middle grade Frederiksen students out of that school to accommodate 280 Donlon seventh-eighth graders. Rearrangements of boundaries could send them to Cronin, Fallon and Murray (Fallon to Murray and Frederiksen to Fallon and Cronin). Mrs. Battin further suggests bringing in Donlon staff and upgrade the program and facilities as needed. An additional portion of the suggestion details Donlon utilization of Frederiksen.

The report to be presented by Scheppler also includes sections on seventh-eighth grade program, results of the survey (which showed Murray district parents evenly split between conversion and status quo), demographic information from Allan Richards, school planning and a financial report.

The school board is expected to receive the report but not take any immediate action.

Retail sales in big jump for Valley

That conclusion can be drawn from the State Board of Equalization's report for the second quarter of 1976.

Livermore's retail sales in that quarter climbed to $20,542,000, a 20 percent jump over the same quarter in 1975. The city's total taxable sales shot up to $23.5 million, up 20 percent over the same period last year. The city's total taxable sales were at $23,547,000, an increase of 23 percent.

Pleasanton's total taxable sales climbed to $13 million in that quarter, a 36 percent increase over the 1975 second quarter. Retail sales were at $8.4 million, a jump of 21 percent.

While no quarterly breakdown of sales is reported for unincorporated villages such as Dublin - San Ramon, it can be expected that those areas would show the same healthy trend of the Valley's two cities. That would place total retail sales in the four communities at over $45 million for the quarter.

The local trend was substantially ahead of the overall state pattern, where retail sales for the 1976 period were up 15.3 percent over the same quarter one year ago.

Pleasanton records healthy sales in the "non retail" category, in large part due to the location of retail outlets in the city for the four major gravel extractors operating along Stanley Boulevard.

'And we'll show you how to milk a cow'

It's a small world of fantasy for children of all ages at Fantasyland — the children's participation art corner at Festival '76 in Livermore this weekend. Look for Jack-in-the-Beanstalk's faithful cow who can be 'milked' of chocolate or white 'milk' (through surgical gloves). Create bonnets at the Mad Hatter's, string jewlry at the Araiian Night boutique, admire your painted face at Mirror, Mirror on the Wall, and create your own fantasy with homemade chalk on the sidewalk. Billy Biehl, Tod Rasse and Robin Rasse will be First in line Saturday and Sunday at Fourth and K Streets.

Foreign students trade tales, launch club at GHS

Carl Latkin, GHS student body vice president, gets to know Andrea Scheibe of Germany. (Times photos by Pat Kennedy)

Teacher Jacqueline Quigley sets Bo Nilso to thinking about future club activities.

LIVERMORE — Belita Cavaleiro of the Azores fixed her big brown eyes on redheaded Eric Jelmhag, who was talking about backpacking in his native Sweden.

At another table, Andrea Scheibe of Germany listened sympathetically to the unhappy tale of Dung Bui of Vietnam. The shy, slender girl had climbed on a plane, a year and a half ago, amidst bombs and gunfire on a Vietnamese airfield. She had become separated from her parents and has never seen them since.

Lupita Cacacho, just arrived from Guatemala, nibbled at her piece of cake and looked a little blank at all the English being spoken. Meanwhile, a confident Bo Nilso, another Swede, refilled his punch cup and cracked a joke for the benefit of Lucia Melo, a Portuguese girl.

Granada High's large group of foreign students were getting to know each other after school yesterday in the staff dining room, while food service students served a white cake they had decorated with WELCOME FOREIGN STUDENTS, and a pink punch created by teacher Marjorie Henry.

Between the newly arrived exchange students from Sweden and Germany; some Southeast Asian students who are still struggling with English as they begin their second year at Granada; and a girl from Livermore's sister city in Guatemala, Granada High has 19 teenagers this year who come from foreign lands.

Counselor Pat Donaldson has her hands full explaining the high school's unusual modular scheduling system and rearranging classes to suit the students' preferences.

They may be bewildered by rapidly spoken, Californian English, but they never cut class. "Very highly motivated," their teachers agree.

The European students are plunging right in, comfortable with their many years of English study, but looking for more vigorous exercise than American students usually indulge in. Andrea finally signed up for the city's competitive ping - pong team, while Eric and Bo are going on hikes in the mountains with a field biology class.

The reception yesterday afternoon had a dual purpose. Besides welcoming Granada's bumper crop of foreign students, it was also the first chance for teachers Jacqueline Quigley and Sara Van Steenburgh to launch a Foreign Students' Club. They plan to meet once a month, hold fundraisers and go on "American - type" excursions with the newcomers.

Most of the students are here until the end of the school year. Already most of them are enjoying themselves immensely, sampling the large variety of courses unknown to them in Europe, Central America and Asia.

"I guess we'll leave in June," Bo Nilso says reluctantly.

"That's when our insurance runs out."

Pleasanton lists revenue for $4.5 million budget

PLEASANTON — State subventions and other government sources of revenue supply a little more than 25 per cent of the city's annual budget, according to a financial analysis of the city budget released recently.

The record shows that $1,229,036 came from various government agencies out of a total revenue of $4,559,526 in the last fiscal year.

The local property tax, that much discussed item in local finances, provided a little more than half of the revenues, with $1,850,804 in that fund. Other taxes accounted for $774,182 and licenses and permits contributed $149,737.

Most of the state money from other government sources were state subventions, according to Jim Smith, a CETA employee who does accounting work for the city.

For example, the reimbursement to the city for the state homeowners property tax relief was $229,529 and the state cigarette tax, which is pro - rated to Pleasanton based on its population, was $84,094.

The motor vehicle in lieu tax contributed $305,333 and beverage license purchases around the state brought $9,488. The state gasoline tax revenues meant another $282,264.

The federal government kicked in $179,221 in revenue - sharing for various city projects and $58,051 to hire five CETA employees, including Smith. The others are a police assistant, a planning aid, and two building maintainance persons.

Another government revenue source was the local Housing Authority which contributed $2,252 as a payment in lieu of taxes, a contribution it traditionally has made annually.

The city's figures also show the water department is nearly a million dollar operation, with $996,850 in revenues and $938,007 in expenses last year. The city lost a slight amount, $13,331 on its sewer operation last year, but the sewer service charge was raised in mid - year to help head off the nosedive.

The city's general obligation bond indebtedness as of June 30 this year was $1,499,000, down $44,000 from the previous year.

Dublinite to host union reps

Flu vaccine volunteers are needed

Volunteers are still needed to help give swine flu vaccine at the Pleasanton Fairgrounds, Oct. 24 and 31.

The vaccine will be given to adults only on those dates, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. It is especially recommended for people over 60 or those with chronic breathing, heart or metabolic disorders.

Anyone allergic to eggs or acutely ill should not receive the immunization.

The program is being jointly sponsored by Valley Memorial Hospital, the Red Cross, Volunteer Bureau and Alameda County Health Care Services Agency.

Prospective volunteers may call Betty Stallings (462-3570) or Marion Wylie (443-3910.)

Festival talent

Young Shawn Selden of Pleasanton doffs his straw topper for a rendition of 'Hello, My Baby' during the Marie Cochran Variety Hour set Saturday at 2 p.m. on the 'K' Street stage during Livermore's Festival '76. The festival offers free family entertainment Saturday and Sunday at Livermore's Carnegie Park and vicinity.

Exhibits, meetings, band concert

Fairgrounds has busy month ahead

The Alameda County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton will be the locale of a number of conferences and exhibitions during the coming month, at least three of which may draw 3,000 or more.

On Saturday, Oct. 16, the California-Nevada Methodist Church's annual convention is expected to draw between 1,500 and 3,000 to the Fairgrounds for an all-day gathering.

The Old English Sheep Dog League will stage an eye clinic from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Oct. 16 in the poultry building.

A CB radio operators gathering is planned for Oct. 23 and 24 and Fairgrounds staff members anticipate upwards of 4,000 CB radio aficionados. Primary activities will be in the Exhibition Hall but other parts of the grounds will also be utilized.

Also on Oct. 23 and 24 as well as Oct. 22, the American Contract Bridge League will play host to some 1,000 bridge enthusiasts in the cafeteria. The event will last from 9 a.m. until midnight each day.

The U.S. Marine Corps Band will perform twice on Friday, Oct. 15 in the Fairgrounds Amphitheatre. Should the weather come up inclement the concerts will be moved into the Exhibition Hall. The band's appearance is being sponsored by the Pleasanton Jaycees.

Proving that the Fairgrounds can handle almost any recreational event, exhibit or meeting, the North American Alaskan Malamute organization will hold a carting event and picnic Sunday, Oct. 17 in Area C from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. The carting event will find the Alaskan Malamutes and carts racing.

But there's more!

This Saturday the Pleasanton Swim Team has slated an awards banquet and the Sunbeam Tigers will conduct an autocross. A Pacific Poultry Breeders Association show is set Sunday.

The County Fair board's racing committee convenes Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss horse training operations at the Fairgrounds.

Hook Um Up Trailers come on to the grounds Oct. 8 for a three-day meeting and the Porsche Club of America has an autocross set Oct. 9-10.

Among the large number of picnics scheduled are those of the Postal Inspection Service (Oct. 9), Alameda County Schools Department (Oct. 15), Sears Roebuck and Company (Oct. 17), and Alameda County Employees (Oct. 24).

Bay Area Pollution Control District directors will meet at the Fairgrounds on Oct. 18 and 25.

Volkswagen of America will test new 1977 models, with sales personnel behind the wheel, on Thursday, Oct. 21.

Swine flu shots will be given from 3 to 6 p.m. on Oct. 24 and 31, at the mineral and gem building on the 24th and cafeteria on the 31st.

The Donna Bashaw arts and crafts show will be held Oct. 10, a Pleasanton Ballistic Soccer Club dance Oct. 9, California Auction Sales auction Oct. 10, Sports Car Auto Cross Oct. 17, Big Wheels for March of Dimes Oct. 23, Foothill High School Band Boosters band competition Oct. 30, Dublin Soccer Club dance the same day, and Aristocrat Caravans convention Oct. 29-31.

Ex-Murray teacher tells of Peace Corps in Africa

(Sydney Blanks, a third grade teacher at Murray School in 1975-76, has taken a leave from teaching to join the Peace Corps. Following are her initial impressions as written to her former faculty at Murray and presented recently in the Murray Grapevine)

Lumela Metsoalle! (pronounced Du-ma-la Mat-swat-e)

That is the Sesotho greeting for "hello friends." Sesotho pronounced Se-su-tu, is the language spoken by the Basotho people of the Southern Africa country of Lesotho. I have been here since July 30.

I met the other 33 Peace Corps trainees in my group in Atlanta, Georgia, but we come from states all over the country. Some are as young as 21, and one woman had her 63rd birthday last week. We are teachers, artists, construction workers, medical workers, farmers and mechanics.

Since there are no direct flights from the United States to Lesotho, we stopped in many countries to re-fuel or change planes. Our route took us from Atlanta to New York City to Zurich, Switzerland to Vienna, Austria to Athens, Greece to Nairobi, Kenya to Johannesburg, South Africa and finally to Maseru, Lesotho.

It is winter here now, so things will be greener in the springtime. In countries south of the Equator, the seasons are the reverse of those in the U.S. and the rest of the Northern Hemisphere.

The Basotho people are very friendly. Lesotho has one of the highest literacy rates in Africa. Education is very important to the people but it is not free for everyone as it is at home. The families must pay fees for each child in school as well as provide his books, paper and pens. Many children start work as herds boys for the cattle, goats or sheep until another child in the family is old enough to take over that responsibility.

The very first important test the children take is at the end of Standard 7 which is about the same as our seventh grade. There are not enough junior secondary (grades 8-10) schools for all the children who want to go to them. Whether a child gets into a junior secondary school depends upon how well he does on the big exam. It is especially important to the boys because if a boy doesn't go to junior high, he can probably only look forward to a job as herdsman or a miner in the mines of South Africa.

Although most of my work with the teachers will be in English, it is important for me to learn the Sesotho language so I can speak to people who do not know much English. The first two weeks I was in the Peace Corps we had language lessons. The first week we lived with a local family in the capital city of Maseru. After a week in the city, we headed out to a week with our language groups in the villages.

Eleven Peace Corps volunteers lived in my village of Ha Makhakhes. It took about 1½ hours to get there from Maseru, although it is only 40 miles away. The last 10 miles are along a very poor unpaved road. I spent the week with one other Peace Corps volunteer and a family of eight in a three-room house. There was a kitchen, a room for Dorothy and I and one other room.

We had no toilet indoors or out, so Dorothy and I got special permission to use another family's outhouse — about one-fourth mile away! In the morning, our "mother" heated up some water on the stove so we could wash ourselves.

We still had our language classes, but only in the mornings. Then we would go walking, visiting or studying after lunch. There was no television, although our family had a radio so we were all in bed by 9 p.m. My family gave me my Sesotho name which is "Lerato," which means "love."

My job here is connected to the newly-opened National Teacher Training College. I will supervise student teachers when they begin working in grades 1-10.

Trivia Bowl set to aid Foothill

The "first annual Trivia Bowl," featuring some of the most trivial minds in the Greater Bay Area, is set for Thursday, Oct. 14 and will benefit the Foothill High School athletic facilities.

The doubleheader will match teams representing The Times, Foothill Boosters, Pleasanton Lions Club and a "mystery" team of "name" trivialists.

Tickets, priced at $1.50, will be available at the door at Hap's Restaurant on the night of the Trivia Bowl. The trivia hijinx will get underway at 7:30 with Ben Fernandez serving as moderator, final authority and separating the combatants.

Cooking up a show at Citizen's

PLEASANTON — Valley residents are invited to "A Taste of California" being dished up at the Citizens Savings and Loan, corner of Main and Abbie.

As part of a state-wide salute to California's produce, Citizens S&L has arranged for cooking demonstrations on everything from hors d'oeuvres to roast beef. And when they get through cooking, the goodies are served to the patrons.

The "Taste of California" show starts this Saturday, 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and continues on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday of nxt week at the same hours. An expert's counsel on "cooking in a micro wave oven" is a highlight of that demonstration.

An added Saturday feature will be the "Old Fashioned Lemonade Stand" (California lemons, of course) to be operated by students from Pleasanton Elementary School, who will keep the profits for their own cause.

Retired prof offers free Spanish class

PLEASANTON — John Aguiar loves to be busy.

That's why he's offering free Spanish lessons to anyone in the Valley who is seriously interested in learning the language.

A former professor at the University of San Francisco, Aguiar taught French, Italian and Spanish for 30 years before retiring two years ago.

To keep busy and get exercise, he's been mowing neighbors' lawns for free. "But it's getting to be fall and it's time for something different," the energetic professor says.

He wants to teach beginning Spanish in the daytime, and may start an intermediate class if he has enough interested students. He doesn't plan any evening courses.

He uses the conversational method, plunging students immediately into the spoken language and relying on a booklet rather than a textbook.

He'd like to start a class immediately. Anyone interested may call him at 462 - 1968 to make arrangements.

County 4-H phone number

Through misinformation, the incorrect toll free telephone number for the County 4-H office was printed in a 4-H story in the Sept. 30 issue of The Times. The correct number to call for obtaining details on 4-H is 846-4457 and ask for extension, 6427.

BPW hosts card party

The Livermore Business and Professional Women's Club will host a card party at 1:30 p.m. today at the Livermore Recreation Center's East Room. Bridge, pinochle and whist will be offered, with prizes and refreshments. Donation is 50 cents.

Marjorie Robinson is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Virginia Olson and Ruth Bailey.

Retired prof likes to teach Spanish - for free

PLEASANTON — A retired language professor is looking for serious students to take free Spanish lessons.

"I want to be busy!" explains John Aguiar, who taught Spanish at the University of San Francisco before retiring two years ago.

"I was mowing people's lawns for free, because I wanted the exercise. But now the weather's getting bad, and it's time for something else."

With more than 30 years' experience teaching French, Italian and Spanish, the professor has plans for an easy conversational course. Rather than relying on textbooks, he'll engage students from the start in speaking the language.

"But I'm looking for serious students," he says. "Not somebody who will drop in for one or two lessons and not show up any more."

Prospective students may call him at 462 - 1968 to make arrangements.

His course — or courses, if he finds a large number of interested people — will be held in the daytime, since he prefers not to teach at night. Besides a beginners' class, he plans an intermediate course if he finds enough people with a few years of high - school Spanish or the equivalent, who want to improve their skills.

Students commended

Amador Valley High School principal Ralph Laird looks at letter commending students William Carson, Michelle Sato and Mark Lauer for their performance in merit program conducted by National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). The students are among 35,000 Commended students nationwide who are being recognized for their outstanding performance on the 1975 preliminary scholastic aptitude test and National Merit Scholarship qualifying test. Commended students represent less than two per cent of the nation's secondary school senior class.

Flu shot schedule set for SR, Dublin

Lesher News Bureau

MARTINEZ — Contra Costa County Health Department officials list two locations and dates for swine flu immunization in the south county area.

San Ramon: Wednesday, Oct. 27, 9 a.m. to noon at the Shannon Park Community Center in Dublin.

Danville - Alamo: Thursday, Nov. 4, 9 a.m. to noon at the San Ramon Valley United Methodist Church in Alamo.

The county will provide 27 sites for swine flu inoculation for senior citizens. All persons over 60 or those with chronic debilitating illnesses will be offered the bivalent vaccine for protection against the swine flu and the A/Victoria strain.

The federal government is making the vaccine available to all those who want inoculations. They also are available from private physicians.

The swine flu is believed to have caused the last pandemic — world wide epidemic — that reportedly killed some 20 million people after World War I.

BORN LOSER

If you think things sometimes go wrong for you, you'll feel better after laughing at "The Born Loser" each morning in The Times comics.

Trek along Pt. Reyes

LIVERMORE — Local teenagers will hike with naturalist Alice Tetlow to Point Reyes Saturday, Oct. 9.

The all - day trip, sponsored by Livermore Area Recreation and Park District, will cost $2.75. Cost includes transportation.

Participants will leave the Recreation Center, 8th and H streets, 7 a.m. and return 7 p.m. Sign - ups will be taken at the LARPD district office, 71 Trevarno Road. For information call 447-7300.

Film for children at Dublin Library

DUBLIN — Film programs for children are scheduled to run every Saturday at the Dublin Public Library from Oct. 2 until Christmas.

Shows begin at 2 p.m. and run approximately 45 minutes.

The first films are Bear Country, and Mole and the Lollipop.

Watch the paper for weekly announcements. For further information call 828-1315. Programs are free of charge.

Music, art, poetry merge for festival

LIVERMORE — The Community Music Studio will present "Carnival of Animals" by the French composer Saint - Saens as part of Festival '76 on Saturday afternoon.

The piano duets (originally written for two pianos, flute, clarinet, xylophone, glass harmonica and strings) will begin at 4:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. O.H. Krause has painted 14 watercolors to illustrate the individual characters in the Fantasy.

The French composer conceived his "Grand Zoological Fantasy" as a musical joke and was surprised at its success. In this performance the music will be accompanied by Ogden Nash's poems, written especially to go with the piece.

James Campbell, Jr. will read the poems. Musicians include: Natalie Masluk, Serena Robins, Sarah Boone, Beth Lambert, Jaqueline Olmstead, Jeanette Conterne, Lois Krause, Meta Brush, Ann Kasameyer, Diane Masluk and Dr. Paul Kasameyer.

Mrs. Hank Kammermeier will co-host the event with cultural programs given by Mrs. Cliff Gibbons on "Communications and Conversation," and by Mrs. Stuart Canaham on "Language and Lifestyle."

XI THETA THETA CHAPTER of Beta Sigma Phi will offer light refreshments of cookies, lemonade and tea at the Livermore Festival '76 this weekend, Oct. 2 and 3. Proceeds will be used for the chapter's community service projects.

PI RHO CHAPTER of Beta Sigma Phi will welcome rushees at a model meeting Monday, Oct. 4 at the home of Dorothy Houston.

Barbara Harris will co-host the evening with a bicentennial theme, and Marlene Hernandez will present the cultural program.

DELTA ZETA KAPPA CHAPTER of Beta Sigma Phi gathers Monday, Oct. 4 at the home of Roberta Cantua for a progam on physical science by Virginia Tynan.

XI RHO OMEGA CHAPTER of Beta Sigma Phi will convene Tuesday, Oct. 5 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mike Ross, with President Joanne Johnson presiding.

Co-hostess will be Mrs. David Moore, and program speaker will be Mrs. Ernie Ducharme on "Conversation." Plans will be finalized for an October Bay cruise.

XI PI OMEGA CHAPTER of Beta Sigma Phi will meet at the home of Jeri Wilson Monday, Oct. 4 for a cultural program by Darline Schafer. The chapter will be serving ice cream and soft drinks at Livermore's Festival '76 this weekend at Carnegie Park in Livermore.

AARP

Sandwiches and coffee will be provided by the chapter before the meeting.

A salad bar luncheon at noon at the rec center will be followed by a card party Nov. 5 at 1 p.m. Donation is $2 per person for bridge or whist, and the event is open to the public.

The AARP (American Association of Retired Persons) is an organization taking affirmative action to help others see what members have found in maturity.

Toyland

Members of Toyland Chapter of the Children's Home Society will welcome new members at a luncheon Wednesday, Oct. 6. Women interested in becoming active or associate members may call 846-3278 or 846-6977 for more information.

The major project of Toyland Chapter this fall will be sponsorship of the magical Nutcracker Ballet, featuring the Oakland Ballet Company at Amador Valley High School in Pleasanton Dec. 2.

All proceeds from the ballet's matinee and evening performances will benefit CHS family welfare services.

Girl scouts

The annual girl scout uniform resale is slated Saturday, Oct. 2 at the Girl Scout Cabin, 2800 Ladd Ave., Livermore.

Those with uniforms to sell or donate may contact Patti Day at 447-3154 for information.

Ski club

Del Valle Skilaufers are already thinking "snow" as they plan to rent a large cabin in the Tahoe area this season to accommodate members from December through April.

The ski club functions as a cooperative effort to make it possible for members to ski for less money. Besides offering the benefit of a cabin, the club hopes to serve as a meeting place for ski enthusiasts interested in carpooling for one-day ski trips.

The public is invited to attend the first fall meeting of Del Valle Skilaufers Tuesday, Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. at Potter's Pizza, 186 Maple St., Livermore. Club coordinator is Nancy Hawtrey of Pleasanton, and treasurer is Chuck Hazen of Livermore.

Babysitters

A clinic for babysitters is to be offered to students 10 years of age or older by the Livermore Jaycee Wives beginning Oct. 6 for five weekly sessions.

Purpose of the clinic is to teach young people how to be responsible, competent babysitters, with emphasis on safety, first aid and basic care. The series will be held at the Sonoma Avenue School Wednesdays from 3:15 to 4:45 p.m.

The free classes will be taught by the Livermore Jaycee Wives, the Red Cross, the Livermore Police Department and Livermore Fire Department.

Rotary

The Pleasanton Rotary Club will hear a spokesman for the Big Brothers Association of the Bay Area at its Oct. 7 luncheon meeting at Hap's Restaurant.

Big Brothers Association has been active among disadvantaged boys from 7 to 16 years of age who do not have a father in their home. Goal of the program is to assign each boy a Big Brother who will meet with him at least once a week to share work and recreation activities.

Las Damas

Las Damas Club convenes Wednesday, Oct. 6 at El Burro Mexican Restaurant in the Pruneyard at Campbell for a talk by Livermore's John Bird, the Flying Chef.

For reservations, members are asked to contact Lajean Loethen at 443-0936.

November marks the club's major fund-raising event — a clothing, accessories and gift sale. "All New, and Just for You" is set Nov. 3.

Las Damas special interest groups include antiques, books, crafts, garden, golf, gourmet, round robin and sewing, with a new fine arts group.

Y-Women

The Pleasanton chapter of the Y-Women in Action will assemble at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 6 to work on craft items for the YWCA's upcoming boutique.

All Y-Women's groups in Southern Alameda County will participate in the event set Nov. 5 at the YWCA Center, 18651 Via Toledo, San Lorenzo.

The Pleasanton Y-Women convene every Wednesday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the First Baptist Church for a varied program of speakers, crafts, and tours. Child care is provided for all events which are open to the public. For information contact Nancy Laughlin at 846-5701.

Breakfast

A Gin Fizz Breakfast to support sight conservation programs of the Dublin Lions Club will be hosted Sunday, Oct. 3 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Hap's Restaurant in Pleasanton.

Tickets at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children will be available at the door or through Tom Frederick at 455-8793 (evenings). Gin fizzes will be offered for $1 each.

Women

The Alameda County Commission on the Status of Women will meet women of Southern Alameda County for an Oct. 16 "Speakout."

The speakout is designed to give women of South County the opportunity to learn about community resources, and begin to work together on problems of mutual concern. Topics for discussion include education, growing older, employment, rape, domestic law, battered women, housing, La Chicana, mental health, health care, welfare fights and child care.

Guest speaker Dorris Fagan of Livermore will address the group on "Our Common Ground."

All women from Hayward, Livermore, Pleasanton, Union City, San Leandro, Dublin, Castro Valley, San Lorenzo and Newark are encouraged to come to the event from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Sunset High School, 22100 Princeton in Hayward. Child care will be provided from 9 a.m. through the day and participants should bring a bag lunch.

For further information call 784-7807.

Valley Women

Nutrition will be the topic for the Valley Women's Club Tuesday, Oct. 5 at the Livermore Recreation Center.

A short business meeting at 9:30 a.m. will precede the program which is open to the public.

Playschool facilities are available for children aged two months through six years for all programs of the club. Reservations for the playschool must be made with Mitze Kashiwamura at 447-6962 before 2 p.m. Monday prior to the meeting.

Bridge

The Sword of Hope Bridge Association gathers Thursday, Oct. 7 at Homestead Savings and Loan Association in Dublin. Play begins at 10 a.m.

Members will bring a sack lunch with coffee provided. Smokers and non-smokers are welcomed but no smoking allowed during playing sessions.

Newcomers

The Livermore Newcomers Club will welcome prospective members at an orientation coffee Wednesday, Oct. 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Hostess will be Sue Richards. Those interested in attending the orientation should call 447-6043 for details.

Danish

New meeting time for Danebod No. 16 and Dannevang No. 7 is 7:30 p.m. for their Oct. 2 business at Dania Hall.

Plans for the annual Family Night, Frikadeller Dinner and Bingo set Oct. 16 will be finalized.

Book club

A contemporary work, "Symposium" by Nikos Kazantzakis, will be the topic of discussion Tuesday, Oct. 5 at the first meeting of the Valley Great Books Discussion Club.

The book is available in paperback and persons interested in observing the group may find it stimulating whether choose to join the group or not.

The syllabus of reading this year will alternate classic authors Plato, Hume, Calderon, Virgil and St. Paul with current writers Chekhov, Crane, Lessing and Mann. The group meets the first Tuesday evening of each month at Homestead Savings and Loan in Dublin.

The group, in its sixth year comprises members from Pleasanton, Dublin, an Ramon and Livermore.

A set of standardized volumes is available for $9.50 or books may be obtained at the library. There is no other charge. For information contact Jan Beerntsen at 846-4904.

White Cane Days

Ed Turman of the Pleasanton Lions Club and Marvin Vargas, art instructor at Pleasanton Elementary School, watch Deolinda Silva, Allison Barnett and Allison Frost, paint posters promoting the Lions Club's White Cane Day, Oct. 2 and 3. Lions will be in downtown Pleasanton and in the shopping centers seeking donations for the blind. Also in support of the blind, a special prize of a colored T.V. is being offered. Tickets may be purchased from any Lion member or Hap's Restaurant. The Lions Club is co-sponsors of the Pleasanton Beep Baseball Team which is comprised of blind children from Pleasanton. Turman is chairman of the White Cane project.

Evening with Anthropos

Job-finding techniques will be the topic of Julie Kiser's program for Evening with Anthropos, Wednesday, Oct. 6 from 8 to 10 p.m. at 1814 Catalina Ct., Livermore.

The program is open to the public at $2 per person.

Ms. Kiser has an M.A. in counseling and is working on a master's degree in public administration. She has done extensive job counseling, and presented workshop at the South County Women's Center in Hayward, at Chabot College, and at the Employment Development Department for the state.

She stresses self-assessment, and points out that people must be more flexible in evaluating the job market. Ms. Kiser places heavy emphasis on the building of self-confidence.

Those anticipating a job change will find the program relevant.

Singles

Roller skating at the Golden Skate in San Ramon is the post-meeting entertainment for the Catholic Single Club which convenes Friday, Oct. 8 at Homestead Savings and Loan Association in Dublin.

The 7 p.m. meeting is open to all singles. Skating expense, including skate rental, is $2.50 per person. For information contact Pat at 820-2685.

New club

A new organization for parents of children who are victims of cerebral palsy will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, 446 Mission Dr., Pleasanton on Saturday, Oct. 2.

The 8 p.m. meeting will focus on getting acquainted and organized. Coffee and dessert will be served.

For information call 846-4941 or 462-4392.

Roadrunners

Santa Rita — still a prison

It came as no surprise to anyone who has ever spent time — one way or the other — in Alameda County's "Stoney Lonesome." The shock value was not in what was said, but that someone dared say it.

Santa Rita, misnomered a "rehabilitation center," is "a small state prison." A stepchild, if you will, to greater slammers up and down the state.

From its humble beginnings as an alcoholic center where the battle of the bottle was fought herding swine and tending walnut orchards, it gradually became the blight of the county's would-be criminal justice system until it stands today as an edifice to inefficient, haphazard, pseudo planning.

It's no wonder "gradual changes" at the nearby Federal Youth Center cum "Correctional Institution" raise civic eyebrows.

Plea bargaining, the co cornerstone of all complaints about the legal system, is the alleged culprit. State prisons are for "serious" offenses, where county jails slam shut for lesser crimes with maximum sentences of up to one year.

And it's easier — and purportedly cheaper — to stick the culprits with guaranteed terms than it is to fight it out in the courtroom.

Short of overhauling the state's judicial system to reduce the use of plea bargaining, it seems smarter to drop the pretense and call 'em where they lie. If it's a prison, then treat it as such and let the state run the joint.

But a "rehabilitation center?" Santa Rita hasn't rehabilitated anyone since Moses was a midshipman.

A garden spot

A couple of months ago in this column it was suggested that valley cultural arts backers meld their collective expertise with those of Chabot-Valley Campus administrators towards the end result of building a college-community auditorium.

Now comes a second thought — still generally in the cultural arts vein.

Credit for this idea must really go to Barbara Joan Smith, a Pleasanton artist whose works have been exhibited both in the Bay Area and nationally.

To get right to the point.....wouldn't it be nice if we could combine exhibits of art with a garden restaurant setting, with proceeds of lunches and/or dinners going to a worthy cause such as a childrens hospital??

Kicking the idea around the other day, while at just such an establishment in Burlingame (the Garden Cafe, 1447 Burlingame Ave.), it was further suggested that the old train depot in Pleasanton (off of Neal, formerly the home of a glass company) would be the perfect location.

We understand, though, the Southern Pacific Company may again hold full title to the edifice.

But it has been considered in the recent past as a potential site for a restaurant or a historical museum.

Two very good uses, no doubt.

But we'd like to transplant a variation of Burlingame's Garden Cafe to that former train station....or some other central and historic site.

What we'd really like to see, as I know Barbara Joan and her many artisy friends on the Cultural Arts Council and Pleasanton Art League would, is a setting with paintings, people, flowers and good food....with the proceeds going to an agency such as the Childrens Hospital at Stanford.

On the inside of the Garden Cafe menu their is a picture of a little girl and boy. They are beautiful little children with beautiful sunny faces....only the little girl has metal arms attached to her shoulders and the boy has braces on both legs and is leaning heavily on crutches.

The Garden Cafe has been operated by volunteer members of the San Mateo-Burlingame Auxiliary to the Children's Hospital at Stanford since 1946.

The hospital is dedicated to the care of chronically and acutely ill and disabled young people. It is a center for the treatment of such catastrophic conditions as childhood cancer, cystic fibrosis, cerebral palsy, severe asthma, juvenile rheumatic arthritis and hemophilia.

The Garden Cafe and Art Gallery are operated solely for the benefit of the Hospital and patronage helps the auxiliary achieve its goal of assisting some unfortunate child find a better tomorrow.

Once you've visited the cafe and seen that picture of those two little children, you'll know why the women of this auxiliary have tabored so hard for so many years.

round the town

We were sitting around the dinner table the other day discussing lust.

"I really think the press has made too much of Jimmy Carter's remarks to Playboy Magazine," the lady of the house said. "After all, he was just quoting from the Bible."

"But Jesus Christ is not running for president of the United States," I reminded her, with considerable wisdom. And if He were, I wanted to add, that earlier JC would have a terrible time getting elected, what with all His talk about woman serve thy man and that sort of thing. But I saw no point in bringing all that up, not at dinner.

"I agree with Mr. Carter that every man has a little lust in his heart, every now and then," she said. "Don't you agree?"

"I suppose," I mumbled into my lamb stew. "This stew is much tastier tonight than it was last night ... what did you add?" I says in a clever move at changing the subject. I could see we were heading for troubled waters.

"Still, the idea of a man looking at me as though I wasn't wearing a stitch is a little unnerving," she says, hanging right in there. "Do a lot of men do that, you suppose?"

Fortunately, I had just swallowed a rather hot piece of potato, thereby making speech temporarily impossible. But she waited.

"Well, do they?"

"Do they what?" says I, foolishly.

"Do most men look at a woman as though she was stark naked?"

"It all depends," I answered, politically. "Some women have a way with them that invites that kind of scrutiny." Wrong answer.

"What does that mean?" she asks. "Are you more attracted to a woman because she runs around looking slinky? Do I look slinky?"

Personally, I was slinking slowly in the quicksand of this impossible conversation. If only the phone would ring ... Why is it the phone never rings when it would be helpful??

"The most attractive women don't have to look slinky," says I in a stroke of marital genius. "And they don't have to look tempting, because their husbands already feel confident of that relationship." Went too far, and I knew it. But too late.

"Do you mean husbands take their wives for granted? Do you take me for granted? Maybe it would be better if I looked slinky every now and then, and tempted you a little ... along with a few other men ..."

"You look absolutely adorable all of the time and I fail to see any merit whatsoever in this conversation," I asserted, nervously. "Can't we discuss household bills or something? What did the body shop hit us for that repair job to the Plymouth after you crushed the side panel?"

"I told you I was mortified about denting the car and I thought you agreed not to discuss that again. None of us are perfect, not even Jimmy Carter, apparently."

It is positively amazing how the conversation keeps swinging right back to JC. The man has a way of provoking people, one way or another.

Ah well, I reason, if you can't beat 'em, join 'em!

"Looking at a woman with passionate desires is no sin, as I remember my catechism, as long as you don't do anything about it," says I, scraping up the last of the lamb stew.

"I think that applies more to the catechism age than to a mature man," she says, cooly. "You are supposed to get over those things in time. Especially if you are satisfied in your marriage." Pause. And then, inevitably. "Aren't you satisfied in your marriage?"

Right now I'd be satisfied to be in Kenya on a wild lion safari, or something. I cannot believe this is happening to me, on a second - lamb - stew night at home.

"I am perfectly satisfied with our marriage, and you know it!" I state, with just the right amount of anger. "Just because some idiot candidate for the presidency has to blurt out his innermost frustrations doesn't mean all men have X-ray eyes." And even if we did, we sure wouldn't tell all to a man from Playboy. But I keep that last thought to myself.

She looks at me with just a hint of humility.

"Oral Roberts — he's the famous evangelist, you know — he told John Lindsay — he's the former mayor of New York — that he, Oral Roberts that is, has never lusted after any other woman in all 38 years of their marriage. Is that the way you feel?"

I will not divulge what occurred next. After all, at the rate idiot males are blurting out their sex secrets to the world, right now what America needs is a little private passion. Even after a meal of leftover lamb stew.

Old Town charm

Defending and enhancing the "charm of Old Town" is never an easy task. Most Valley residents and visitors agree that Pleasanton has done a better job than most on that score.

But lately the city's leaders appear to be wavering in that struggle, and that's a shame. It could also be the kind of economic expediency that offers a very limited return.

The recent approval of that curbside ice dispenser on Main Street was an indication that the city's steadfast defense of "core area charm over one operator's profit" was not going to be so steadfast anymore. The more recent approval of a car wash at Main and Angela seems to tell us that the barriers are down, and downtown commerce is to be no different than any other commercial strip.

We can think back to all those stout General Plan Committee sessions, when council members and the citizenry talked boldly of "doing something different with Pleasanton's core area ... not going the same old route." Investors got this word, and seemingly shared the dream with upwards of two million dollars spent on downtown improvements in the last dozen years ... virtually all of it reflecting the "old town's heritage" which appeared to be the city's steadfast standard.

We don't have a thing against car washes, and the particular service now offered is one that Pleasanton could use. But surely, in a city of 15 square miles with more than a dozen sites for commerce of all kinds, there is place for a car wash other than one block from the Pleasanton Civic Center.

The council has an opportunity to review this proposal when application is made for a conditional use permit. It could be one community's firm declaration in support of "an Old Town with a difference." Or it could be business for business' sake, and to hell with heritage.

This city council must make that choice.

Political vox pop

Raymond vs. Hinton

Editor, The Times:

I feel I must respond to the article "Raymond squares off with Pleasanton Demo Club" in the Thursday Pleasanton Times.

I attended the meeting in which Valerie Raymond, according to Mr. Hinton, "really raised hell." If raising hell is asking some pertinent questions regarding an endorsement on which only a select few voted, then I guess Valerie Raymond is guilty and I am also. I too questioned the procedure for this endorsement. I would also like to point out that at no time during this meeting was there any foul or abusive language used by Ms. Raymond.

I want to clarify that it was I who indicated that as the present by-laws read an endorsement can be easily stacked and pushed through in one candidates favor.

Valerie Raymond did not request a change in the club's endorsement. She did point out to Mr. Hinton that most groups who are considering endorsing a candidate do have the courtesy to invite the candidates to the meeting or at least make them aware of the fact that endorsements are being considered.

I feel that Valerie Raymond has been treated in a very shabby manner by Mr. Hinton and I hope that in the future all candidates will be treated equally and with courtesy.

I hardly think an endorsement vote of 8 (eight) is one of great significance.

Anna Martinsen
Pleasanton

The candidate

To The Times:

An open letter to Tim Beard:

Congratulations on joining Ms. Raymond's campaign organization. I wish you all the success you had in the primary.

I am a little troubled about your credibility gap though. Your assertion that Murphy relies on paid rather than voluntary help should probably be ignored, but it might worry the IRS when I fail to show a large income from this campaign on my return.

I would like to clear this up right away, so why don't you offer a hundred dollar contribution to Murphy, and I will then donate my entire campaign earnings to your candidate. And I can get several other area cahirmen to make the same offer to your candidate.

By the way, we plan to have Murphy's signs placed by volunteers also, but I guess Ms. R.'s paying for this work doesn't count somehow. At least that way when signs are placed illegally she can deny any responsibility.

Seriously, I believe you (and everybody) should pick candidates and work for them if our system is to work.

I can sympathize with your problems in this campaign. The job Murphy has done certainly doesn't give you any real campaign issues to work with. The payment all of us receive is a responsive and responsible Supervisor, John B. Murphy.

Meet Murphy

Editor, The Times:

This letter is addressed to Mr. Kiergan and any others who feel they have not had an opportunity to meet Supervisor John Murphy. Please take a moment to assess the duties of your supervisor. John Murphy represents over 227,000 people in the First District. If he did nothing else other than meet residents he would have only a few seconds for each one and no time to do what we elected him to do.

Last year John came to Livermore oftener than once a week on errands varying from official calls on persons who requested his help, to social events, to buying a new car. To answer the person who feels he or she has not had a chance to talk to John please do come to Murphy headquarters at 411 South L. St. any Monday morning between 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. (If you have a special problem and want to make an appointment, call 447-8212 and reserve time during those hours.) Hopefully we agree that Mr. Murphy can better spend his time, which you and I are paying for, than walking the streets to be re-elected.

Regarding the name tag: Up to date political etiquette dictates that "If name tags are to be used they should be worn by all persons attending, regardless of position or rank."

Additional Letters To The Times appear on page 8.

And Raymond, again

Editor, The Times:

She is more to be pitied than censured. She is more to be helped than despised. She is only a lassie who ventured on life's stormy path ill advised.

Who? Valerie Raymond. To be pitied because a person would have to be very immature to throw the tantrum she did at the September meeting of the Pleasanton Area Democratic Club.

I have never disliked Valerie. I've always respected her or any woman who can work her way up to the position she has in such a short time. But I have read three versions in the newspapers about the shoot out at the Democratic Club. Well I was there, too, and I think the voters should know the truth.

I've been in the Club six months, and I have never seen Valerie or her friends attend any meetings in all that time. They came to the September meeting for one reason only, and that was to try and over turn the endorsement the Democratic Club gave to John Murphy for supervisor. When she saw she couldn't get the Club to do that, she lost complete control of herself and made accusations that were ridiculous and unfounded.

After the meeting she continued to argue with Gene Hinton, and the vulgarity she used I dare not repeat. Chilli Barlow made a statement in the paper and said that Valerie did not swear. Well, that is a downright lie. With me hearing Valerie curse were my wife, Carol, Gene Hinton and Jacob and Dorothy Green. So if you question my word, ask any one of them.

I believe that people who must resort to swearing to express themselves must not have the intelligence to use a more educated vocabulary. The Pleasanton Area Democratic Club endorsed John Murphy because we believe with his experience and intelligence he would not lose his cool like Valerie did and go astray in a crisis.

Now let me assure you that this is not mud slinging or a hate letter because I have no room in my heart for hate. If I had one hateful bone in my body I would go to the hospital and have it removed.

New bike

Seizing the Christmas season by the forelock, we decided to get the big purchase out of the way early this year.

The motocross bike.

Not only would the purchase spread Christmas expenses out over three months, a commendable budgeting procedure when you're talking about an item that will cost no less than $60 and very likely twice that. It would also, I reasoned, put my 9 - year - old out of his anguish. For the past year, he has been embarrassed to show his face at Rincon School without even a crossbar on his bike.

I figured I should be grateful we passed through the 10 - speed craze without so much as a derailleur. Kevin's first bike was an historic, blue one - speed purchased in 1955 for my sister.

For a year, he left it leaning invitingly against the front stairs. Unlocked.

When it was finally stolen, even the thieves decided they didn't want it. Since it had been registered, the police called us up to come get it. We never did.

Meanwhile, Kent down the street was working on bikes the way older kids pull apart hot rods. He built a flashy green creation out of a Riviera body and Schwinn handlebars and some other kind of wheels. His second bike is multicolored because it's made from so many different frames, and is usually down for repairs.

Apparently, a whole Valley lifestyle has been built around ownership of a motocross bike.

First (as we learned after buying a mean black Huffy with gray fenders, yellow and red striped trim and padded crossbar) there is the ritual of passing it from hand to hand for admiration and criticism.

"You gotta big bolt there on your gooseneck."

"Whaddaya want that number on there for?"

"These kind of seats wear out fast."

Then it's time for a needs assessment and a trip to every bike dealer in town to look at accessories.

At the Schwinn dealer, Kevin and his consultant, Kent, looked at heavy motorcycle chains and admired padlocks. "This kind is great," advised Kent. "Thick cable. They'll never be able to cut through it."

They, I found out, are the dreaded "kids from Junction" who allegedly overrun the Rincon campus every day after school, sawing through chains and unbolting frames in their frenzy to get a fresh supply of bike parts.

Selling and trading bike parts is big even with the 10 - year - olds, I learned. You'd better unsnap all your pads and pull off your handlebar grips before you leave your bike outside, or in five minutes somebody will be trying to sell you the gooseneck pad you just paid $1.50 for.

"That seat over there." Kevin pointed to a black banana seat on a shelf.

"I can't wait til my seat wears out so I can get one of those. It's better for doing wheelies."

"Your grips will wear out soon, too," Kent promised. "Then you can get some like these." He held up a pair made of the same butterscotch - yellow polyurethane they use for skateboard wheels. (We went through the Great Skateboard Purchase LAST Christmas.)

Meanwhile, school board member Ken Engelund and councilman Futch — avid 10 - speeders like all right - thinking liberals — watched the proceedings with interest.

There was no avoiding them as I quickly wheeled little sister Rachel's humble one - speed into the darkened back room and signed a repair order. The chain was sagging and the seat needed a bolt.

Then we ladies amused ourselves trying on rucksacks, since the boys obviously didn't want to be associated with anyone who had such a crass - looking bike.

At last, armed with price lists and catalogues, and having inspected every item in the shop, the boys made their purchase.

A 30 - cent sticker of reflectorized tape that said REDLINE.

"But what about all the pads and chains and locks you wanted? What about a helmet?"

"Oh, Mom." Kevin was embarrassed again.

"I have to save SOMETHING for next time."

Lighter Times

Now that the political season is falling upon us hot and heavy, like boiling oil, it's time for me to dig out my all - purpose press release. This is the release which I recommend to every public relations person for every candidate who is running for any office at all. I've inserted the name of my favorite politician, but you can feel free to insert the name of your own. Just see if my press release doesn't tally with everything you've always heard about political candidates and probably didn't want to.

Jim Crumb, World War II veteran who single - handedly captured Iwo Jima, announced the opening of his campaign headquarters in an historic old building next to the boiler factory on First Street.

The political novice, who is also a top - notch cattle breeder and knows how to play 5,000 songs on the accordion, flashed his winning smile for passersby headed into a supermarket and enthused about what a great country America still is.

His historical campaign building, dedicated by the Chamber of Commerce president and the Maid of Anytown, once was a lighthouse on Cape Hatteras, North Carolina or New Jersey, depending on the hurricane seasons's effect. Crumb promised to keep his historic building in Anytown if he is elected. "Don't let them take it away," said Crumb on that particular issue.

Crumb, whose prayer breakfast Tuesday morning will be televised live from the Holiday Inn, said he anticipates little trouble from his opponent whom he refused to name, but who, he noted, was implicated in a bizarre plot to pass the stolen British crown jewels in a South - of - Market pawn shop.

"Mommy, the baby sitter is crying."

ARIES (March 21-April 19) The first part of your day may cause you some moments of anxiety. Take heart. Things will be as good later as they were bad earlier.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't be overly concerned today about a career matter. There'll be a sudden shift. Things will work out as well as could be expected.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you encounter a roadblock to your plans today, make adjustments on the spot. The alternatives could be even better.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A situation that seems to show small promise may be the tip of the mother lode. Get into it. Dig a little deeper.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You can achieve with tact today results you'd never attain being too assertive. Remember this in your one-to-one relationships.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Once you quit looking for the easy way out, rewards will come for your efforts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't shy away from an activity because you think it'll be a bore. Once you get in the thick of things, you'll discover it's fun.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Keep your nose to the ground if you're on the scent of something that appears to be profitable. Stick to it. You can close the deal today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You can think big today without fear of being over-optimistic. Your judgment is such that you can do what you can dream.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A delayed dividend may be in store, in payment for something you did recently that was not acknowledged at the time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your horizons are finally brightening. Things that are just over the next hill will erase those shadows.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The way matters end today will be far better than their beginnings. The reason? You have a powerful ally in Lady Luck.

Your Birthday

Oct. 1, 1976

An interesting year that will be fun is in store for you. There will be a wealth of social activity and, perhaps, a trip you've longed to take.

Opening lead — 7 ♠

By Oswald & James Jacoby

This is the sort of hand that looks easy to the expert. He has four apparent losers, but he causes one to disappear into thin air by the use of what is known as an elimination play.

He assumes that West has opened a singleton spade. He wins the lead in his own hand and plays a club. West rises with the ace and leads a second club. No other lead is any better.

South wins, draws trumps and leads a diamond toward dummy. Dummy's king wins the first or second diamond and another diamond is played. This will give West two diamonds and one club and a headache. He will have to lead a card in one of those suits. South will ruff in dummy and discard his losing spade!

This is what would happen with an expert declarer, but there is a way to defeat the contract. Instead of taking his ace when the first club is led, West plays the queen. South must draw trumps before leading a second club which East must take with his nine. Now East plays the queen of spades. South takes the ace in dummy, comes to his hand with a trump and leads a diamond. West plays the queen of this suit. Dummy takes the king, but when the second diamond is played, East wins. He cashes his jack of spades, leads another spade and the defense waits for West to get his diamond trick.

Ask the Jacobys

South deals and passes. North opens one spade in third seat and South responds two clubs. Is this bid a force?

No, but in modern bidding it comes close to being one and North should try to find a rebid.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

More 'Letters To The Times'

Teachers day

Editor, The Times:

Ms. Lee's letter of 9/21/76 contained enough trite ideas and hackneyed phrases to prompt me to write. I would like to speak first to her denigrating comments regarding a "12.7 salary increase." It is ludicrous to talk about 12.7 (I assume she meant percent) without relating the percent to some numerical value. Perhaps if she could get beyond the numbers, she would find a reasonable raise.

Second, I would like to discuss the 181 school day year. The 181 day "snap" of a job held by teachers is rarely that. These days are rigidly proscribed. There are no variations, at a specified time each day a teacher must be ready to meet 30 plus students and must be ready to work! There are so many extra duties tied in with teaching that the smug "only 181 teaching days in a year" is really unfair.

In a (I think typical) school that I am familiar with there are approximately 26 coaches of boys and girls teams. Each puts in approximately 250 hours outside of school time. Where do you fit that in your 181 day figure Ms. Lee? Each teacher is assigned extra duty chaperoning dances, plays etc. This totals about 10 hours per teacher per year. The Math Club, International Relations Club, Drama Club, Spanish Club, Foreign Exchange Club, Girl's Leadership etc. each require about 100 hours per year.

Sixteen teachers serve each year as class advisors. Supervising the yearbook, school newspapers, putting on plays, concerts and organizing band tours require and incredible amount of teacher time, well outside of the 181 day schedule so glibly referred to. So far, we have the teacher in the classroom teaching at least five hours. In addition, the teacher must plan a suitable curriculum, correct papers, attend department meetings, attend faculty and special interest meetings, prepare and grade tests, help students outside of class, confer with parents as well as myriad other duties. Certainly sounds like a cushy job, doesn't it?

The issue of the quality product of the schools is an interesting one. Do parents have any responsibilities or are the declining scores solely the fault of the schools? How many children are checked for homework, helped with their number facts or simply read to? It certainly is easier to blame the school.

Finally, I don't think that private enterprise needs to loan out staff project co-ordinators. If they are an uninformed as Ms. Lee apparently is, they clearly would be of little use.

Tax override

Editor, The Times:

According to a ballot argument being prepared by Councilman John Staley, for the proposed public SafeAy tax, which appeared in Valley Times, August 29, "Insurance Rate Threat", why do we, the taxpayers, have to compensate for our city officials' mismanagement? How much more unfair taxation can the taxpayers tolerate? Is this the way our homes will be confiscated from us, through extreme taxation?

Instead of voting for this so-called Safety tax override, which will be an additional hardship on the taxpayers, wouldn't it be more logical and also more economical to launch an extensive campaign to make our elected representatives more accountable, and more responsive to the needs of all the people?

Please remember the sewer tax started out a minimum cost, over the protest of many of the taxpayers. Once it was started it has drastically increased, and no one knows how much more it will increase. Once the camel gets its foot in the door, what will happen next? There is no way to get it out!

Now — we are being faced with this so-called Safety tax Twice In One Year; our elected officials are Not Listening to the majority of the electorate who said no to this unfair, unwanted, unnecessary tax last March.

I hope every registered voter, homeowner and renter alike, who is interested in keeping a place to call home, will say No to this ridiculous unfair so-called Safety tax. A No Vote on the so-called Safety tax will not only be a vote to protect your individual rights, but to continue to stay in your own home.

Good year at Amador High

Editor, The Times:

This year student body government at Amador will be in its fullest capacity ever.

So far this year we've pulled off a very successful freshmen orientation and are directing our attention toward the sale of student body cards.

What we've done is this! Student body officers talked to local merchants seeking discounts for holders of valid Amador student body cards. Presently, 15 valley businesses have agreed to participate in the program. As a result, we have provided a service for the students and help promote more business for the merchants by posting the list of discount places where students will see it.

Other things we are trying at Amador are lunch-time activities and assemblies. The reason for this is quite simple; at lunch time there isn't a lot to do for students at Amador.

Ideas include a sound system in the cafeteria, movies at fourth and fifth periods, a chess and game room, and a place for ping pong and shuffleboard. Other ideas are also being put into action, like rock bands at lunch time.

All in all, I feel that this year student government and Amador student life will be the best it's ever been.

Students discuss sports problems

The East Bay Athletic League Student Board of Managers discussed various problems dealing with unsportsman-like conduct in the league's athletic events at yesterday's meeting at California High School.

The students voted to have one representive from each of the eight EBAL high schools present at each meeting (either the student body president or another representive).

The students passed a motion to recommend that the student representives bring along various members or coaches of athletic teams that were involved in specific problems on the athletic field. They hope to discuss the problems at the meetings.

"We hope to do this in specific cases," said Willie Huff, student body president of California High and a star running back on the Grizzly football team.

Times SPORTS
Dave Weber, Editor

"Otherwise we will just have one representive of each school at each meeting."

The students recently proposed a modification of a coaches' code of ethics started by the league's basketball coaches last year. However, the proposal must be approved by the league's school principals and no word has yet been given on their decision.

The basketball code of ethics dealt with the behavior of coaches and athletes at the leagues' basketball games.

Only five of the eight EBAL schools had representives at yesterday's meeting. Several of the students called for more structured meetings and different times for the meetings.

One student felt the student meeting should be switched from the afternoon to the morning to give some students a better chance to participate in the talks. Several other students also agreed on this count.

The next scheduled meeting is at Dublin High School. No date has yet been set for the meeting.

AV stuns Cowboys

Amador Valley High School's girls' volleyball team took a decisive 15-6, 15-9 decision over Livermore in East Bay Athletic League action yesterday afternoon.

Livermore's junior varsity came back to topple Amador Valley in two sets, 15-6, 15-5.

Dina Newell and Kim Bohannon played well for the Livermore varsity.

Granada took a 15-6, 15-8 victory over Foothill in another varsity contest. The Foothill junior varsity got revenge with a win in three sets, 7-15, 15-11, 15-12.

Dublin's varsity looked very impressive in routing San Ramon 15-3, 15-4 on the winners' court. Linda Doyal scored eight points for the Gaels in the first contest.

"The whole team played well, it was a good team effort," said Dublin coach Susan Shoemaker after the contest.

San Ramon's junior varsity came back for a 9-15, 15-11, 15-13 victory over the Gaels.

In another junior varsity game Monte Vista crushed California, 17-15, 15-3.

SF ready for hapless Jets

San Francisco 49ers, back on the winning track again, hope to keep that habit going Sunday when the winless New York Jets invade Candlestick Park.

Kickoff is 1:05 p.m.

Monte Clark's Niners are 2-1 in the NFL, following a 37-21 conquest of expansion Seattle last Sunday. New York is 0-3, its latest setback a 16-0 loss to Miami.

Joe Namath, once one of the premier quarterbacks in the league, appears to be in for a long season as the Jets attempt to rebuild.

Two 49er regulars expected back in the lineup in the Jet game are 38 - year - old cornerback Jimmy Johnson and guard John Watson. Johnson, who suffered a broken nose in the Chicago game two weeks ago, was in for two plays against Seattle. He picked off a Jim Zorn pass, his 47th interception of a 16-year San Francisco career.

Watson has been slowed by a knee injury.

Quarterback Jim Plunkett has completed 43 of 70 passes for the Niners for 532 yards and has thrown six touchdown passes.

He fired two TD throws to Gene Washington and one to Willie McGee against the Seahawks. Washington's two scores elevated him into the No. 1 position as 49er all-time touchdown pass catcher with a total of 50.

Operating in the Jet backfield with Namath are Ed Marinaro, former Cornell and Minnesota Viking, and little Louie Giammona. Giammona prepped in the Calistoga area and went on to become one of Utah State's best rushers.

He is the nephew of Philadelphia Eagles' coach, Dick Vermeil.

As effective a punt returner as Ralph McGill has been in his five years with the 49ers, last week's 50-yard TD return against Seattle was his first in that category. He has led the NFL twice in punt returns.

Transfer player aids MV rout of Falcons

ALAMO — The familiar saying reads "the rich get richer." In the East Bay Athletic League tennis race the statement has shining truth.

Monte Vista, already a seemly unstoppable tennis team, picked up yet another highly ranked player last week, an important part in yesterday 6-1 win over scrappy Foothill on the winners' court.

Doug Stone, who just moved to Alamo from Leland High in San Jose, picked apart Foothill's top singles player Bob Cannon, 6-3, 1-6, 6-1. Stones' first EBAL win impressed Stang coach Flovd Baker.

"He'll probably be ranked fourth when the 16-year old ratings come out," beamed Baker. "We've got some tough ducks this season."

The Mustangs' usual top-seeded player, Tripp Gordon, was out with the flu. Baker refused to hold Stone as number one seed over Gordon. "I wouldn't venture on that. Doug hasn't been here that long. They'll challenge each other for the top spot."

Foothill's only win came from number five singles Steve Dorsie, who edged Dan Bergmann, Monte Vista's only senior, 7-6, 7-6.

The Falcons' number one doubles team, Chris Neves and Mark Wheeler, put up a valiant fight before falling to the Mustangs' duo of Roger Crawford and Chris Shepanek 7-5, 7-6.

Baker, apparently bored with the easy competition in the EBAL, wants to play Diablo Valley Athletic League powerhouse Northgate in a practice match this year. "I'd love to play them. I know they've got fantastic depth. I think that would be the match of the year." Amador lost to Northgate in a practice match, 6-1.

In other EBAL matches yesterday Granada dumped San Ramon 6-1 and Amador shutout Dublin 7-0. Granada has lost just one match this year, to Monte Vista last week.

Smith beaten in Fireman tourney

SAN FRANCISCO — Hank Pfister of Bakersfield upset fourth-seeded Stan Smith 6-4, 6-4 Thursday in the second round of the $125,000 Fireman's Fund International tennis tournament at the Cow Palace.

For Pfister, a former San Jose State student who turned pro during the summer, it was "the biggest win I ever had — wow, too much!"

Smith, of Sea Pines, S.C., did not score a single ace, and had a number of volleying errors. Pfister, at 6-4, the same as Smith, got only one ace but the rest of his power game was consistently good.

Leading in the second set 5-4 and serving, Pfister lost three of the first four points, then got a break when he dribbled a shot over the net tape. He was able to drive Smith's return into the stands with an overhead smash and ran off the next two points for the match.

In a lesser upset, Butch Walts of Atherton eliminated 10th-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 6-1, 7-6, winning the tie-breaker, 10-8.

Walts became the first player to reach the quarter-finals, and second-seeded Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md. also got there by beating Nick Saviano of Los Altos, 5-7, 6-1, 7-5.

Three other players seeded in the top seven won second-round matches: Roscoe Tanner of Kiawah Island, S.C., No. 3; Brian Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., No. 5; and Bob Lutz of San Clemente, No. 7.

Lutz beat Geoff Masters of Austrlia 6-4, 5-7, 7-6, taking the tiebreaker 7-5. Gottfried romped past Fred McNair of Chevy Chase, Md., 6-2, 6-3. Tanner eliminated Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico, 6-3, 7-6, winning the tie-breaker 9-7.

League season begins for EBAL gridders

All eight East Bay Athletic League teams open their league football season tonight.

At Dublin, two-time prep of the week Jim Boulware will try to roll up another impressive yardage total against the inexprienced and winless Grizzlies.

Foothill, fresh off a 33-13 pasting of Memorial, will travel to Livermore to face the 10th - ranked Cowboys. Resurgent Monte Vista faces another team on the upswing, Amador Valley, at Patterson Field in Pleasanton.

The Dons may be hurt by the absence of senior quarterback John Sevo, who suffered a broken collarbone late in the pre-season finale win over favored Menlo - Atherton.

In the only meeting of ranked teams, the 14th - ranked San Ramon Wolves, coming back brilliantly under new coach Lyle Setencich after a disma-l 0-5 EBAL campaign a year ago, battle undefeated, and third - ranked Granada, in Danville.

Granada's Vance Rushing has been the Mats consistent offensive threat, picking up 423 yards on the ground in the Mats trio of practice games while junior quarterback Steve Robison has completed seven of his last eight passes for 124 yards.

Cebu wins rec crown

An eight-run rally at the last minute — or, to be more precise — the top of the seventh inning, boosted second half champion Cebu Association to a 17-12 win over first half champion Oaks Club and the overall Livermore Area Recreation and Parks District D League men's softball championship Wednesday.

Frank Sullivan led the winners with four hits in the game while Jim Villar had three, including two doubles, and Lou Fidri three, including one two-bagger. Larry Nadeau, Steve Evaristo and Louis Pades all cracked two singles.

Jim Evaristo and Ken Shelton each added a single.

For the losers, Willie Pinkerton had four hits, including a triple while Greg Gil, Thad Baker and Ray Macias each connected for three hits, including a double each. Ron Adams added two hits as Ron Seagraves, Don Armstrong and Dave Freeman doubled.

Danny King had a single.

Ali-fight judge defends decision

NEW YORK — The days since the Muhammad Ali-Ken Norton heavyweight championship fight have been busy ones for Harold Lederman, one of the judges who awarded a controversial decision to the champion. Television stations have been sending camera crews to his drug store in the South Bronx, reporters and relatives from all over the country have been telephoning.

It's a moment of celebrity for the 36 - year - old pharmacist who along with Barney Smith and referee Arthur Mercante have been thrust under the glaring scrutiny of the boxing public after what Lederman said "turned out to be one of the most controversial decisions in a lot of years."

Amidst the turmoil, Lederman maintains that only a last - round drive by the champion retained the title. "During the early rounds, I kept saying to myself, 'Boy, He's handing the title to Norton,' " Lederman said of the fight segment in which Ali went into his clowning act and let Norton do most of the punching.

"It's amazing the guy could have given away so many of the early rounds and known exactly when to start fighting enough to win." Lederman continued. On his card, Ali won the first round and let Norton take the next six. Then the late surge, climaxed by the 15th round, which Ali won on all three cards.

Don harriers crush Foothill

Amador Valley's cross - country team rolled to an impressive 20-43 win over a young Foothill squad yesterday in Pleasanton.

Despite the Don victory, blazing Bruce Rodgers of Foothill won the varsity individual championship with a thrilling win over Mark Kendall of Amador Valley. Rodgers recorded a 15:37 time for the three - mile course against Kendall's 15:46. Curtis Smith of Amador finished third with a 16:12 clocking. Casey Fareno of the Dons was fourth in 16:32 as the Amador depth proved to be too much for the Falcons.

Amador also took a win over Foothill in the frosh - soph competition, winning a close 28-30 decision. David Chence of the Dons finished third with a 11:15 clocking. Don runners picked up most of the other places to cinch the victory.

In another key East Bay Athletic League meet San Ramon rolled over Dublin 18-39.

The Wolves took the top four places in breezing to their victory.

San Ramon's frosh - soph team also recorded an easy win, taking a 17-43 decision over the Gaels. Borazon of the Wolves won the race in a fine 12:41 clocking.

The San Ramon girls also won a forfeit over Dublin. Still, Dublin girls took the top two places in the race. However, the Wolves garnered the next five places to cinch the victory.

Drumtra misses 700 series

Rene Drumtra, bowling in the 900 Classic league, just missed a 700 three-game series in last week's winter league action at Granada Bowl in Livermore.

Drumtra chopped the four-pin off the seven in the final frame of his third game to wind up at 698. He opened the series with a string of 10 strikes on his way to a 288 line before falling off to 222 and 188 to complete the series.

In the same league, Dennis Fanucchi did well, rolling a 674 series highlighted by a 256 game. Louie Raiche and Brian Peterson became American Bowling Congress award winners as Raiche bowled a 180 all-spare game and Peterson tally a 181 triplicate score.

Don Starkey led off with a 224 and finished with a 234 to amass a score of 631 in the Classic league while the Purity Cleaners team posted a 1050 score.

New courses for Lutherans

DUBLIN — Effectiveness training for Lutherans, a Lutheran adaptation of Parent Effectiveness Training, begins Oct. 3 at Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, 7557 Amador Valley Blvd. at 7:30 p.m. This eight - week course will be taught by Chaplain Hilton Schlect of Dublin, and includes a $36 per person registration fee.

The aim of the course is to provide greater fulfullment through improved communications by viewing the family as a community of persons, accenting the dynamics of Christian love.

The class is for parents who feel they are doing a good job, who want to do better, who see danger signals, who already have problems, who have young children, who have adolescents, who have normal children, or who have exceptional children.

Another course starting on Oct. 3 is an adult instruction course taught by the Rev. David Aubrey in the basics of the Lutheran Christian faith.

Church news deadline is Wednesday at noon

African shows slides

PLEASANTON — The October 5 meeting of the Women's Guild of the Pleasanton United Presbyterian Community Church will enjoy a scholarship program featuring Priscilla Njoroge, a theology student working toward a Masters Degree in Christian Theological Studies. She will show slides of her homeland in Kerugoya, Kenya where she will work with church related institutions upon her return to Kenya.

Mrs. Njoroge and her husband James are studying at the Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, where he, a minister, is working toward his doctorate. They have two children.

The scholarship luncheon is an annual affair to raise money for the Presbyterian Theological Seminary. Also appearing on the program will be Anne Pruett, soloist, accompanied on the piano by her daughter Lisa, Mrs. Louise Clausnitzer, who will give a brief history of the church, which is celebrating its 100th anniversary, and Mrs. Florence Harding at the piano.

CITY OF PLEASANTON
NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION
PROJECT DESIGNATION: RZ-76-14
October 1, 1976

In accordance with the provisions of the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures, rezoning application RZ-76-14 has been determined not to require an EIR but rather a negative declaration.

The project consists of rezoning the Mission Hill area (an approximately 53 acre parcel of land located between Pleasanton School and the Mission Park development) from multiple and single family residential uses to the PUD (Planned Unit Development) District and rezoning a portion of the Pleasanton Ridge west of Foothill Road and roughly opposite the Bernal Avenue intersection with Foothill Road (approximately 109 acres designated as Assessor's Parcels 946-3947-9, 946-3930-3-6, 3-7, and 5-3) from the R-1-40,000 District to the HPD (Hillside Planned Development) District.

Both areas subject to these rezonings are hilly lands with considerable physical impediments to development - earthquake fault zones, landslide areas, steep slopes. The PUD and HPD District designation would enable the City to control development in these areas in accordance with the objectives of the Pleasanton General Plan, including safety, aesthetic, and open space considerations. It is the finding of the City Manager that this rezoning would not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, California 94566, telephone 846-3202.

Unless any written appeals of this case are received by this department within ten (10) days of the above date or publication of this notice in the Pleasanton Times, whichever is later, this decision will become effective.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Planning Commission of the City of Pleasanton has set October 13, 1976, at the hour of 8:00 P.M. Wednesday evening, a regular Planning Commission meeting in the Pleasanton Council Chambers, 30 West Angela Street, Pleasanton, California, as the time and place to consider the following matter:

Application of H.C. Elliott, Inc., to rezone an approximately 14 acre parcel of land located between Tawny and Palomino Drives immediately east of Pico Avenue. The present zoning configuration of approximately 10 acres of C-N (Neighborhood Commercial) zoned land located on the northern portion of the property and four acres of PUD (Planned Unit Development - Multiple Residential) zoned land on the southern portion (fronting Palomino Drive) would be changed to approximately seven acres of C-N Zoned land fronting on Pico Avenue and running between Tawny and Pico Drives and seven acres of RM-4000 (Multiple Residential) zoned land located between the C-N property and development fronting on Norton Way. The total possible multiple residential units as a result of the rezoning would remain approximately the same as in the present zoning configuration.

The Planning Commission may approve, modify or deny the application, or recommend to the City Council any action deemed in the public interest.

CITY OF PLEASANTON
NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION
PROJECT DESIGNATION: Z-76-180
October 1, 1976

In accordance with the provisions set forth in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures, zoning application Z-76-180, an application to construct an industrial building, has been determined not to require an EIR but rather the filing of a negative declaration.

The project consists of the construction of a building at 5726 Sonoma Drive to house Mini-Systems, Inc., a firm engaged in the assembly of computer systems, development of the software for these systems, and sales of the systems. All of these activities would take place at this site. The first phase development proposes a one-story, 3,300 square foot building, landscaping, and off-street parking. Allowance is made for a future 2,440 square foot expansion in the rear of the building; until that time the unlandscaped area is proposed to be kept weed free. At maximum development the building would house approximately 20 employees working a normal daily shift.

The proposed site would be the first to develop in a 6.5 acre vacant industrial park zone. The now-vacant site has no known physical impediments to development. All utilities necessary to serve the site are present and Sonoma Drive has been constructed to industrial street standards. The small number of employees working at the site and the prospective customers would not aggravate traffic conditions on little used Sonoma Drive. There would be no industrial emissions to either the air or sewerage system. The structure itself, subject to Design Review approval, is designed to give more the appearance of an office building than an industrial structure. It is the finding of the City Manager that this project would not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, California 94566, telephone 846-3202.

Unless any written appeals of this case are received by this department within ten (10) days of the above date or publication of this notice in the Pleasanton Times, whichever is later, this decision will become effective.

CITY OF PLEASANTON
NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE A NEGATIVE DECLARATION
PROJECT DESIGNATION: RZ-76-11
October 1, 1976

In accordance with the provisions set forth in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures, rezoning application RZ-76-11 has been determined not to require an EIR but rather the filing of a negative declaration.

The project consists of rezoning an approximately 14 acre parcel of land located between Tawny and Palomino Drives immediately east of Pico Avenue. At present the northerly 10 acres is zoned for neighborhood commercial uses and the southerly 4 acres is zoned for multiple residential uses to be developed as a planned unit development. The proposed change would reduce the neighborhood commercial land to seven acres and reorient it to front on Pico Avenue running between Palomino and Tawny Drives. The multiple residential area would be rezoned to the RM-4000 designation and would lie immediately east of the commercial zone between Palomino and Tawny Drives. The total number of possible multiple units as a result of the rezoning would remain approximately, the same as in the present zoning configuration.

In essence this rezoning is merely a different configuration of the existing zoning. Sufficient size is afforded for a viable neighborhood commercial center planned in the area which is hoped, once developed, to reduce traffic on Vineyard Avenue and reduce local vehicular miles traveled. The redrawn boundaries do not place the commercial area opposite any sensitive land uses. Since the total number of multiple units remains approximately the same and at approximately the same location, no change in impacts relating to residential development should be created. No known impediments to physical development are present at the site. It is the finding of the City Manager that this project would not create, to a significant degree, any of the effects enumerated in the Environmental Impact Guidelines and Procedures which indicate that the environment may be harmed.

For more information on this case, contact the Department of Community Development, 200 Bernal Avenue, Pleasanton, California 94566, telephone 846-3202.

Unless any written appeals on this case are received by this department within ten (10) days of the above date or publication of this notice in the Pleasanton Times, whichever is later, this decision will become effective.
